Owner's Comments

*[EMKA 43 - BIANCA 414: Exceptional Sailboat for Offshore Sailing The EMKA 43 - BIANCA 414 is a sailboat designed for demanding sailors seeking robustness, performance, and comfort in the high seas. This model, built in Germany and derived from the famous Bianca 414, is renowned for its quality craftsmanship and excellent seagoing qualities. With its 12.50 meters in length, this sailboat combines elegance and strength thanks to a polyester reinforced hull and a design signed by the renowned naval architect Elvstrøm & Kjærulff. Its sleek silhouette and sloop rig make it an ideal boat for long crossings as well as coastal cruises. The hull has been stripped of its antifouling, washed, dried, epoxy coated, sanded, and four layers of epoxy applied. The deck has been stripped of its teak, sanded, epoxy coated, then painted with a non-slip coating, and its watertightness checked. All seacocks and valves have been replaced, and the hull epoxy coated, sanded, then three layers of white polyurethane applied. All damaged portlights have been refitted, and the interior varnish is being refurbished. Interior lighting has been refitted with low-energy LED. Reading glass replaced. Hydro lubricated ring replaced. Auto radio and interior and exterior speakers replaced. The steering system has been made more reliable by the installation of stops. The strengths of the EMKA 43 - Bianca 414 ?? Robust and seagoing sailboat, designed for the open sea ?? Good stability thanks to its significant ballast ?? Warm and spacious interior, ideal for life on board ?? Optimal performance under sail, even in light winds The EMKA 43 - Bianca 414 is a sailboat that will appeal to both experienced sailors and long-distance cruising enthusiasts. Its comfort, strength, and performance make it a sure bet in the market for large cruising sailboats.]*
