Technical Details

The Riva 20 Corsaro is an iconic boat from the Riva brand, known for its elegance and Italian craftsmanship. Although classic, this model remains highly sought after by used boat enthusiasts due to its technical characteristics and timeless design.

Dimensions:

The Riva 20 Corsaro measures approximately 6.20 meters in length and 2.40 meters in width, offering a compact size ideal for pleasant and maneuverable navigation.

Materials:

Built primarily of wood, this boat combines tradition and modernity, with a laminated wood hull that ensures both robustness and lightness.

Engine:

Equipped with an outboard motor, often a Mercury or another reputable brand motor, the Riva 20 Corsaro can reach impressive speeds for its size. Models may vary, but a 150 to 200 horsepower motor is common, offering a balanced performance between speed and fuel consumption.

Capacity:

This boat can generally accommodate up to 6 people, making it an excellent choice for family outings or gatherings with friends. The interior layout is designed to offer comfort and functionality, with comfortable seats and practical storage space.

Navigation Characteristics:

The Riva 20 Corsaro is designed to offer excellent stability and exceptional maneuverability, even in moderate sea conditions. Its sleek design and laminated wood hull contribute to smooth and pleasant navigation.

Equipment:

In addition to its technical characteristics, the Riva 20 Corsaro can be equipped with various accessories to enhance the navigation experience, such as GPS navigation systems, fishing sonars, sound systems, and comfort options like cushions and sun protections.

The Riva 20 Corsaro is an ideal choice for those seeking a used boat that combines elegance, performance, and reliability. Whether for sea outings, fishing activities, or simply enjoying the sun, this boat offers an unforgettable navigation experience.
